Interest rates

The Banque centrale du Luxembourg (BCL) informs that, based on preliminary data, the main interest rates applied by Luxembourg's credit institutions to euro area households and non-financial corporations (NFCs) for their loans and deposit operations have on average evolved as follows in July 2018.

Representative interest rates on new contracts¹ – loans and deposits – concluded with households

The variable² interest rate on mortgage loans granted to households has decreased by 4 basis points compared to June 2018 to reach 1.54% during July 2018. The volume of these newly granted loans has increased by 23 million euros a monthly basis to reach 300 million euros during the last reference period. On a yearly basis, the interest rate has decreased by 11 basis points whereas the volume of newly granted loans has increased by 80 million euros.

The fixed³ interest rate on mortgage loans granted to households has decreased by 3 basis points on a monthly basis to reach 1.90% during July 2018. The volume of these newly granted loans has increased by 41 million euros on a monthly basis and has consequently amounted to 364 million euros during the last reference period. On a yearly basis, this interest rate has increased by 3 basis points and the volume of newly granted loans has increased by 61 million euros.⁴

1 New contracts refer to any new agreement concluded between the household or the non-financial corporation and the reporting agent. New contracts include all financial contracts which mention for the first time the interest rate pertaining to the deposit or credit and all renegotiations of existing deposits or credits.

2 Variable interest rate or rate with an initial fixation period inferior or equal to 1 year.

3 Fixed interest rate weighted by the amounts of contracts for all mortgage loans granted, whatever the initial rate fixation period (above 1 year). This series has been published by the BCL only since February 2009 because of methodological reasons linked to the identification of reporting agents.

The interest rate on consumer loans that have an initial fixation period above 1 year and below or equal to 5 years has increased by 12 basis points on a monthly basis to reach 2.62% in July 2018. The volume of these newly granted loans has decreased by 3 million euros on a monthly basis to reach 27 million euros during July 2018. On a yearly basis, the interest rate has decreased by 11 basis points whereas the volume of newly granted loans has remained unchanged.

The interest rate on households' fixed-term deposits that have an initial maturity below or equal to 1 year has decreased by 29 basis points on a monthly basis to reach 13 basis points during July 2018.

⁴ It is worth stressing that new lending volumes for housing loans granted at fixed rates have been revised between January 2017 and December 2017 due to reporting errors from one bank. The revised data provide a more accurate evolution of bank lending on a yearly basis. Despite the variation in volumes, the interest rate of such mortgage loans remains barely unchanged.

Volume of newly granted loans to households (millions euros)

Representative interest rates on new contracts¹ – loans and deposits – concluded with NFCs

The variable² interest rate on loans below or equal to 1 million euros granted to NFCs has remained broadly unchanged at 1.67% on a monthly basis. The volume of newly granted loans has decreased by 68 million euros on a monthly basis, reaching 835 million euros in July 2018. On a yearly basis, this interest rate has decreased by 11 basis points whereas the volume of newly granted loans has increased by 13 million euros.

The variable² interest rate on loans above 1 million euros granted to NFCs has decreased by 15 points compared to the previous month to reach 0.95% during July 2018. The volume of these newly granted loans has decreased by 1 141 million euros on a monthly basis and has consequently reached 5 267 million euros in July 2018. On a yearly basis, this interest rate has decreased by 37 basis points and the volume of newly granted loans has decreased by 121 million euros.

The interest rate on fixed-term deposits of NFCs with an initial maturity below or equal to 1 year has increased by 6 basis points on a monthly basis to reach -5 basis points in July 2018.
