Interest rates

The Banque centrale du Luxembourg (BCL) informs that, based on preliminary data, the main interest rates applied by Luxembourg's credit institutions to euro area households and non-financial corporations (NFCs) for their loans and deposit operations have on average evolved as follows in May 2017.

Representative interest rates on new contracts¹ – loans and deposits – concluded with households

The variable² interest rate on mortgage loans granted to households has increased by 3 basis points on a monthly basis to reach 1.66% in May 2017. The volume of these newly granted loans has increased by 33 million euros on a monthly basis to reach 214 million euros during the last reference period. On a yearly basis, the interest rate has declined by 4 basis points whereas the volume of newly granted loans has increased by 29 million euros.

The fixed³ interest rate on mortgage loans granted to households has increased by 6 basis points on a monthly basis to reach 1.87% during May 2017. The volume of these newly granted loans has increased by 78 million euros on a monthly basis and has consequently amounted to 327 million euros during the last reference period. On a yearly basis, this

1 New contracts refer to any new agreement concluded between the household or the non-financial corporation and the reporting agent. New contracts include all financial contracts which mention for the first time the interest rate pertaining to the deposit or credit and all renegotiations of existing deposits or credits.

2 Variable interest rate or rate with an initial fixation period inferior or equal to 1 year.

3 Fixed interest rate weighted by the amounts of contracts for all mortgage loans granted, whatever the initial rate fixation period (above 1 year). This series has been published by the BCL only since February 2009 because of methodological reasons linked to the identification of reporting agents.

interest rate has increased by 14 basis points whereas the volume of newly granted loans has increased by 111 million euros.

The interest rate on consumer loans that have an initial fixation period above 1 year and below or equal to 5 years has increased by 54 basis points compared to April 2017, reaching 2.46% in May 2017. The volume of these newly granted loans has barely changed on a monthly basis to reach 30 million euros during May 2017. On a yearly basis, this interest rate has decreased by 33 basis points and the volume of newly granted loans has increased by 1 million euros.

The interest rate on households' fixed-term deposits that have an initial maturity below or equal to 1 year has decreased by 11 basis points on a monthly basis to reach 12 basis points during May 2017.
